University Re-Accredited by the NCA

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — An accreditation team from the North Central Association listed in its evaluation of the University of Arkansas "as matters of concern" a lack of communication among the faculty, administration and students.

The NCA team visited the university last spring, but detailed findings of its visit were not made public until Monday when they were printed in the Arkansas Traveler, the student newspaper.

A spokesman for the university said the university received re-accreditation from the NCA for a five-year period as a result of the visit.

The report said some faculty members wanted a closer relationship with the administrative officials because they felt they did not know what was going on or why.

"There is a vague feeling that the administration is too concerned with the 'Little Rock machine' and not enough with campus matters of immediate concern to the faculty," the report said. No explanation was given as to what was meant by the Little Rock machine.

The team said that the registration is below the average for state land grant universities.

It also criticized what it termed heavy teaching loads, inadequate equipment budgets in most departments, low salaries and a tenure policy contrary to good recruiting practices in some instances.

The report praised the quality of the administrative and assisting staff personnel and said the budgeting and accounting procedures used are good.

Arkansas New Thailand Chief

WASHINGTON (AP) — Brig. Gen. Hal D. McCown, a native of Little Rock, Ark., will arrive in Thailand about June 29 to assume command of U.S. Army personnel in Thailand, the Pentagon announced Monday.

McCown, who will receive a temporary promotion to major general, has been director of the Ground Munitions Office in the Defense Department.

He will succeed Maj. Gen. Richard G. Stilwell who will become commander of the 1st Armored Division at Ft. Hood, Tex.

McCown guided the massive flow of men and material into Vietnam during the buildup of 1965-66 when U.S. forces swelled in size from some 80,000 to 389,000.

Leaders of World Honor Adenauer

By RICHARD K. O'MALLEY
BONN, Germany (AP) — Leaders of the Western world met today to pay funeral tribute to Konrad Adenauer and later to discuss problems between their governments and West Germany with Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger.

President Johnson, French President Charles de Gaulle and British Prime Minister Harold Wilson headed the foreign visitors who assembled in the great hall of the West German Bundestag for the memorial service that began the funeral rites for the founder of postwar West Germany.

Kiesinger, speaking at the memorial service, called on the Germans to be worthy of the legacy the 91-year-old former chancellor had left them: the need to reunify Germany and Western Europe.

Outside a bright spring sun beat down on the peaceful, tree-studded Rhineland hills, and in Cologne the remains of the old statesman rested in the cool gloom of the Cologne's great Roman Catholic Cathedral.

Funeral services were to take place in the cathedral this afternoon, with burial following in the family plot at Rhodendorf, across the Rhine from Bonn.

Kiesinger, speaking in a quiet but forceful manner, declared: "Konrad Adenauer never reached the promised land — neither the reunification of Germans nor the unity of Europe. He has left them to us as a great inheritance."

He recalled the problems Adenauer faced when he came to office in 1949, a situation worse bomb MIG bases "is based on the desire to avoid widening the war."

He said "the loss in U.S. lives will be less if we pursue our present target policy than they would if we were to attack those fields." But he added that the policy could change.

In New York Monday, Gen. William C. Westmoreland, U.S. commander in Vietnam who addressed a meeting of The Associated Press, said he was delighted with the attack on the bases.

"It is true that MIGs could take sanctuary in Red China," he said, "but they would be at a disadvantage. Their reaction time would be decreased and they would therefore be a lesser threat to our fighter bombers."

than any other German statesman ever faced.

"When he left it, 14 years later, free Germany was a respected partner of free peoples," he said, "and it had him to thank above everyone. What good fortune."

Already some progress has been made in discussions of mutual problems between West Germany and the United States. President Johnson, who arrived Sunday night, has talked with Kiesinger on such subjects as the proposed treaty to check the spread of nuclear weapons, mutual defense and the question of troop withdrawal from Western Europe.

De Gaulle, personally the closest to Adenauer of the visiting leaders, was making his visit in Bonn the shortest. Arriving just before the memorial service in the Bundestag, he was returning to Paris the same day. But even he delayed his departure to give time for a talk with Kiesinger after the funeral.

Wet, Cold General in Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Cool, wet weather with raw easterly winds up to 15 miles an hour whipped across Arkansas this morning, dumping heavy rains in the central part of the state.

More of the same was expected tonight.

Showers and thundershowers advanced across the state early this morning with Little Rock recording 1.32 inches by 6 a.m. Dardanelle and Clarendon both had almost an inch by that time.

Shower activity is expected to redevelop in West Arkansas this afternoon and move eastward to cover most of the state by tonight.

Another cold front is expected to push across the state tonight, causing temperatures to drop to the upper 30s in parts of Northwest Arkansas by Wednesday morning.

Monday's highs were in the mid 50s in Northeast Arkansas and in the 60s elsewhere. Early morning minimums were in the low 50s in the extreme south and in the 40s elsewhere.

Highway Bids $3.7 Million

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Highway Commission will open bids Wednesday on $3.7 million in road and bridge jobs and also hear road study proposals from eight delegations.

Various proposals will be aired by persons representing Faulkner, Clark, Carroll, Sebastian, Logan, Yell, Bradley, Saline and Crawford counties. Some of the proposals overlap county lines.

PLANES HIT From Page One

my had been killed since the operation began Sunday. American losses were put at 2 killed and 14 wounded.

A new U. S. Marine operation was announced in the menaced northern part of South Vietnam. Called Operation Shawnee, it began Saturday and so far 27 of the enemy have been killed, spokesmen said. Four Marines were reported wounded.

On the U.S. political side in Saigon, there was a change of command with the departure of Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge and the arrival a few hours later of his successor, Ellsworth Bunker. Bunker said President Johnson had asked him to renew the U.S. pledge "to support the true revolution of the Vietnamese people."

The accelerating air war over North Vietnam after weeks of bad weather included two strikes this morning on the fringes of Hanoi.

One strike by U.S. Air Force F105 Thunderchief pilots hit a railroad repair yard which the American command said was 2 1/4 miles east-northeast of the center of the city and across the Red River from the capital's most densely populated section. The second raid, also by Thunderchiefs, was made on an electrical transformer site seven miles north of the city.

An American spokesman said the raid on the railroad repair yard was the closest ever made to Hanoi but the target "does not appear to be in the city limits."

The previous closest strike to Hanoi were on an oil storage area 2.5 to 3 miles north of the city last summer.

The famous Spanish Armada consisted of 132 ships, 33,000 soldiers and crew members.

Obituaries MRS. ODELL PARISH

Mrs. Odell Parish, 52, of Patmos, formerly of Idabel, Okla., died Sunday in a Texarkana hospital. A native of McCurtain Co., Okla., she moved to Patmos in 1961. She was a member of the Baptist Church.

Surviving are her husband, Odell Parish of Patmos; three sons, Hershel O. Parish of Hope, Donald Gene Parish of Amarillo, Texas and Henry Halden Parish of Patmos; a sister, Mrs. Marie Sharp of Garvin, Okla., two brothers, Isom Pittman of Dixon, Calif., M. L. Pittman of Oklahoma City.

Services will be Tuesday at Forest Hills Baptist Church near Idabel.

A Bearded Worker Is Reinstated

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Douglas Aircraft Co. has reinstated a worker suspended three weeks ago for wearing a beard.

The personnel manager's office maintained a discreet silence but a Douglas spokesman and Christopher Vosburg, the whiskey hydropress operator, gave the credit Monday to television, on which even Douglas officials conceded he looked good.

Vosburg, 24, was suspended April 4 because, Douglas said, his black beard was "distracting." His union, Local 148, United Auto Workers, initiated grievance procedure. Then, more than two weeks later, came a telegram from the company.

The U.S. Department of Justice was created Sept. 24, 1789.

The wedding will be solemnized June 4 at 2:30 p.m. by the Reverend George Prentice at the First Assembly of God Church. All friends and relatives are invited. No cards will be sent.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

SOUTHERN CUSTOM MAKES GOOD IMPRESSION

Dear Helen: My folks taught me to say "Mam" and "Sir" to adults older than I, and I still do. Now that I've moved up north, my girlfriend kids me about my "Southern manners."

Is "Mam" and "Sir" out of style?—FROM LOUISIANA

Dear From: A well-known etiquette expert says "Mam" and "Sir" are becoming outmoded, and this makes me a little sad. Nothing impresses me more than a teen who shows respect for elders with these two words.

Don't change—PLEASE—H.

Dear Helen: I am 14 and still suck my thumb. I try not to, but sometimes it gets so bad I have to go into my room and hide. I'm way overweight, being five feet two inches and 180 pounds. I just have to eat.

The reasons for this are that my mother never gave me a pacifier when I was a baby, and she overfed me.

I have gone to the doctor about dieting, but I can't stay on one. I'm so ashamed of the way I was raised that I don't have any friends.—HELP.

Dear Help: You have all the wrong reasons for your problem, honey. So long as you blame your mother, you'll never get up the gumption to change.

My long distance guess is: you're shy and somewhat nervous. So you compensate for your inability to make friends by eating and sucking your thumb, both of which give you a false sense of security. The more weight you gain, the farther you withdraw from people, and that causes you to gorge all the more, because it's the only pleasure you have. A pediatrician who specializes in teen problems could do wonders for you. He'd explain why you overeat and retain baby habits; then inspire you to lose by showing you how much you'd gain

CHATTER

By: "BILL"

The other day we were staying in a city hotel and picked up a little magazine from the dresser. It had an article called "The World of Women" which says . . . "Guess who started all this primping?" Well, it might surprise you to know that almost every frumpy that now delights women and exasperates men, was borrowed from the male.

High heels were the idea of pint-sized Louis XIV and his favorite pair? . . . red. The men of ancient Egypt shaved their heads to make their wigs fit evenly. Our tough Revolutionary Army wore wigs in 1799. They only stopped because they couldn't afford the enormous amounts of tallow and flour needed to oil and powder the wigs!

Men may jeer at women for wearing curlers in bed, but in the 17th and 18th centuries gentlemen often wore cardboard boxes to bed to protect their beards, which were cut and waxed in all sorts of shapes! There is more to be said about the primping men and the ideas they have given women, but for the most part we are glad they did. It is such fun to dress up and try new things. . .

If you haven't tried one of the Korot of California Filigree cotton knits do so. They are smart and about the most comfortable thing you have ever owned. We have them in colors of sea blue and parchment and honestly, you will love them! Try on a pair of shorts, pants or skirt. They are made to fit, with them wear a shell or blouse to mix and match.

We have so many new things to show you. How about just coming and see for yourself? The Place, . . .

STYLE SHOPPE

If you follow his instructions—and stop blaming "the lack of a pacifier" and an indulgent mother for your woes—you'll be back to normal by next year. Count on it!—H.

Dear Helen: My father thinks that when a boy holds my hand it's "manhandling". I'm 16 and sensible, but he won't believe I'm over 10. I can't even double date, and when a boy comes to the house my Dad third-degrees him until I could drop through the floor. I can't even go anywhere with my girl friends without taking my little brother and sister along.

I want to talk to him about letting me grow up a little, but I always chicken out. How can I get up the nerve?—FATHER PROBLEMED

Dear F.P.: This is a job for your mother, but if she's chicken too, you can gradually educate your father by taking on more responsibility around the house, helping without being asked, showing in every way that you're mature enough to be trusted. Fathers hardly ever realize their little girls are growing up—without a few lessons from the female side of the family.—H.

Dear Helen: May a teenager put in a word about working mothers? People who condemn them just don't know what they're talking about. My mother is a school teacher and in constant contact with teenagers. Naturally she gets irritated when I act like a dumb teen too. When she gets this way I go into my room and think, I realize she is working to save enough money to get me into college next year. This is the reason most mothers work—to give their families something extra, that will benefit them all their lives. Sure it's hard for me, a boy, to tell the guys I can't go out Saturday because I have to help clean house, but it's worth it. I'm learning responsibility too.

Our family isn't deprived—it benefits from my mother's working.—C.B.

Just Walked by Same Way

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "The guy that held us up last week just walked by," a teller whispered to a coworker Monday at a Western Savings & Loan Association branch office.

So teller Mary Michluk, 28, pressed an alarm button.

The man turned, pulled a gun and told her: "Okay, let's have it again." He stuffed $3,596 into a bag and fled.

"I'll be seeing you," he said. The license of the bandit's car was noted.

When police arrived, Miss Michluk said the bandit was the same man who robbed the firm last Tuesday of $900.

Jimmy Johnson Jr., 36, was arrested nine hours later. Wesley W. Grapp, special FBI agent in charge, said Johnson would be arraigned before a U. S. commissioner on charges of parole violation and staging five bank holdups.

Favorites Uneasy at Pinehurst

By KEN ALYTA
Associated Press Sports Writer
PINEHURST, N.C. (AP) — Favorites had cause to be uneasy today as the second round of the Men's North and South Amateur Golf Tournament unfolded on the 7,000-yard, par 72 No. 2 course of the Pinehurst Country Club.

First-round play Monday produced only one major upset but it was a whopper, a possible harbinger of things to come.

Jay Baumgardner, one of the more obscure players in the 128-man starting field from 28 states and Canada, knocked off Ward Wetlaufer, the defending champion from Atlanta, in a 20-hole match.

Baumgardner, four down after 10 holes, birdied four of six thereafter to get even, then won on the second extra hole.

The 32-year-old Bristol, Tenn., insurance man, who never had been ahead, won the match with a four, thanks to a marvelous chip shot and Wetlaufer's drive deep into woods.

Baumgardner never has won anything more than a club invitation tournament.

In other first-round matches, the four-man Walker Cup team entry remained intact and six former North and South champions won.

The 64 matches produced some exceptionally close struggles. Four went extra holes, 19 were decided on the 18th hole and 14 went to the 17th.

Baumgardner's second-round opponent today was Morris Beecroft of Newport News, Va.

Also in the top quarter were Bill Campbell of Huntington, W.Va., and Charlie Smith of Gastonia, N.C., both former North & South champions.

Campbell, a cup team player and former U.S. champion, met Vern Novak of College Park, Md., and Smith faced Truman Connell of Boynton Beach, Fla.

Top maff in the second quarter was Bob Murphy of Nichols, Fla., 1965 National champion and also a cup player. He struggled through a six-over-par performance to beat David Griffith of Charlotte, N.C., 3 and 1. Today Murphy met Tom Roney of Little Rock, Ark.

Two other winners of the North and South title, Dale Morley of High Point, N.C., and Frank Strafaci of Miami, Fla., were in the second quarter, along with current cup player Jack Lewis, 19-year-old from Florence, S.C.

Dawn Glory Will Run in Ky. Derby

NEW YORK (AP) — Dawn Glory will run in the Kentucky Derby because of his Puerto Rican fans.

The 3-year-old colt finished third Saturday in the Wood Memorial at Aqueduct, which was won by Derby favorite Damascus, and his co-owner Elean Herrera said:

"I want no part of them (Damascus and Successor) in the Derby. My horse might get in the way."

But Herrera said Monday rising pressure from his fellow countrymen had changed his mind, and that he will run Dawn Glory in the Run for the Roses at Churchill Downs May 6.

"The Islanders consider Dawn Glory one of their own," Herrera said. He jokingly added: "They'll hang me if I don't start him. It will give them something to shout about."

Max Gluck's Proviso, sixth in the Wood, also will run in the Derby.

Unsinkable Ted Abernathy has his submarine ball on target again and the Cincinnati Reds are sailing a steady course in the early National League race.

Abernathy torpedoed the leading Houston Astros with 1 2-3 innings of clutch relief pitching Monday night, protecting a 3-1 victory that ran Cincinnati's winning streak to five games.

The veteran reliever, who throws with an unorthodox underhand motion, rescued winner Sammy Ellis in the eighth inning and registered his fifth save of the young season. He has appeared in eight of the Reds' 13 starts.

"I'm sure glad he's on my team," slugger Deron Johnson said after the Reds drafted Abernathy from Atlanta's Richmond farm club during the winter. "It takes years to learn to hit a curve that goes down, and then you run into a guy like Abernathy who throws one that goes up."

Abernathy, who set an all-time record of 84 appearances — all in relief — and finished with a 2.58 earned run average two years ago while with the Chicago Cubs, slipped to a 4.55 ERA in 58 games for the Cubs and Braves last season.

Atlanta, seeking to protect its younger pitchers from the draft, placed the 34-year-old right-hander on the Richmond roster. The Reds, desperate for relief pitching, grabbed him.

Abernathy's strong finish against the Astros, who have dropped eight in a row, and Tony Perez' three-run homer lifted the Reds into the league lead.

St. Louis dropped a 6-5 decision to Los Angeles in 13 innings and fell into a second-place tie with idle Philadelphia. The Dodgers-Cards struggle was the only other game played in the NL.

In the lone American League contest, Boston scored three runs on Ken Harrelson's eighth-inning error for a 7-4 victory over Washington.

Abernathy came out of the bullpen with one out in the eighth after Jim Wynn and Ed Matthews touched Ellis for successive singles. The submariner retired Rusty Staub and John Bateman on fly balls, choking off the threat. He walked Aaron Pointer with one out in the ninth but got pinch hitter Chuck Harrison to rap into a game-ending double play.

Perez connected following a walk and Johnson's single in the fourth. It was his second homer of the season — both off Houston's Dave Giusti.

The Astros scored in the sixth on singles by Jim Wynn, Matthews and Staub.

Rookie Jim Campanis' first major league hit — a leadoff double in the 13th — triggered the Dodgers' winning two-run rally. Ron Hunt was hit by a pitch and Phil Gagliano fumbled Jim Hickman's sacrifice bunt, filling the bases, before Jim Lefebvre delivered the tying run with a sacrifice fly.

One out later, Lou Johnson singled the winner across.

The Cards had taken a 5-4 lead in the top of the inning on a run-scoring single by Curt Flood.

Lefebvre drove in four runs with a homer, single and the sacrifice fly, while Johnson connected for a bases-empty homer.

Lou Brock had three hits, scored one run, drove in a pair and stole three bases for the Cardinals.

First baseman Harrelson booted Mike Andrews' bases-loaded grounder with two out in the eighth at Washington, enabling Carl Yastrzemski, Rico Petrocelli and Jose Tartabull — all running on the 3-2 pitch — to score.

Andrews' single and a double by Reggie Smith scored two runs in the seventh, lifting the Red Sox into a 4-4 deadlock after Frank Howard's 480-foot homer with two aboard in the sixth had sent Washington ahead 4-2.

Yancey Is Winner of Dallas Open

DALLAS (AP) — Bert Yancey had an important decision to make at the 14th hole of the 6,777-yard Oak Cliff Country Club course.

He was among the trees, with a downhill lie and he had to make up his mind whether he wanted to play safe and pitch out onto the fairway or shoot through an eight-foot opening.

"I thought I was behind and I figured I had to make a birdie or lose the tournament," said the young man from Philadelphia, "so I went for it—I shot through those trees, only touching a few leaves."

Actually Yancey wasn't behind — he was tied with Bob Goalby, who had bogeyed the hole.

Yancey's birdie—with a 20-foot putt—put him in the lead to stay. He swung down the stretch to a one-over-par 71, 274 for 72 holes and $20,000 as champion of the $100,000 Greater Dallas Open.

He finished a stroke ahead of Roberto de Vicenzo, the 1966 Dallas Open champion who made a gallant bid for a repeat with a two-under-par 68, and Kermit Zarley, who also could manage only a 71 on the final round. They wound up with 275 and won $9,750 apiece.

The PGA golf tour moved on to San Antonio for the Texas Open today with the top three Dallas finishers in the field.

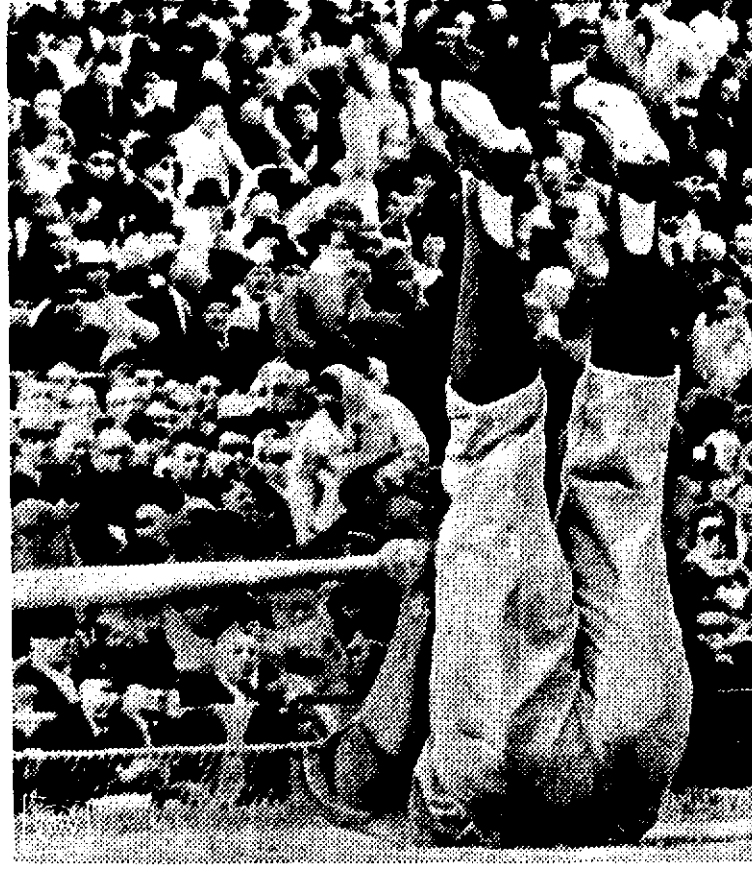

It also had Yancey in sixth place among the money-winners with $40,727.27. He moved up from 10th with his victory here — his first tournament triumph of the year.

Yancey will have a new caddy at San Antonio, it was indicated after the tournament Monday when he paid his bag-packer $500 and then fired him with the explanation that "he didn't help me."

The caddy contended that he should have been given $1,000 under a rule that allows a golfer to give up to 10 per cent to his caddy.

U.S. Rider Ties for 7th Place

NICE, France (AP) — Kathy Kusner of Arlington, Va., riding Aberali, tied for seventh in the National Stud Book Prize at the Nice Horse Show Sunday.

BOTTOMS UP could be Bob Bailey's thought as he takes the quickest route to avoid a fastball aimed right at his head. Bailey, formerly with Pittsburgh, is with the Dodgers now.

Travelers Rained Out in Amarillo

Right fielder Byron Brown's home run in the 10th inning gave Dallas-Fort Worth a 1-0 victory over El Paso Monday night in a Texas League baseball game.

It was the Spurs' third extra inning triumph of the season.

In the only other game Albuquerque salvage the finale of a four-game series with Austin by beating the Braves 7-0 behind the three-hit pitching of John Duffie.

The Arkansas-Amarillo game at Amarillo was postponed because of cold weather.

Arkansas journeys to Albuquerque for a game tonight.

Last Heavy Workout for Porkers
FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The last heavy workout before the first Red-White game at Little Rock Friday night was scheduled for the Arkansas Razorbacks today.

Coach Frank Broyles sent the Porkers through a two-hour spring football drill Monday, including a 45-minute scrimmage.

"We improved our passing game a little today and I thought Mike Hendren ran the best that he's run all spring," Broyles said. "We really wanted to throw a little more than we did, but it looked good."

The Porkers finish spring drills one week from Saturday with the second Red-White battle here.

Barber's Hole in One Got Him a Car

DALLAS (AP) — Miller Barber won $505 in the Greater Dallas Open Golf Tournament Monday by tying for 34th place.

But the former Air Force lieutenant, who has been on the PGA tour for more than eight years, did eight times better than that with a hole-in-one. He received a Mercury Cougar, valued at $4,000, for the feat.

Barber has been cashing in on the aces, five of which he has shot in his career.

One at Seattle paid him $10,000.

He came closest to one in the Buick Open at Flint, Mich., and picked up $15,000. He was only about three feet away from the cup.

Another thing that has added to his income:

At Pecan Valley Country Club course at San Antonio, which he represents on the tour, Barber fired a course record 65 in the 1964 Texas PGA.

The owner of the course, E. J. Burke Jr., put $6,500 in a savings account to go to the golfer breaking Barber's record. But while they're trying — with Barber in the field too — Barber gets the interest off the savings account. He already has received about $500 from that source.

First Hope Teacher Who Rode a Bicycle Promptly Lost Her Job

By Mrs. Sid B. Henry

In this year of Centennial observance in Arkansas it seems to be a time for "homecomings"; thoughts naturally revert to the old home town, and the urge is strong to go back and go over the old city and those on old associations, experiences and friends.

This week I had a call from a stranger passing through our city to Dallas, who had been asked by an old schoolmate, whose family came to Hope just about the time mine did, to please contact one who in the days gone by answered to the call of "Kate Jamison." "Kate Jamison" was to point out to him this schoolmate's old home, so that he could take back to his schoolmate a kodak picture of the old house that had sheltered her and her family during the pioneer days of Hope.

But, alas, that old homestead had long since made way for progress, and the site of that little four-room cottage is now occupied by one of Hope's handsomest residences, on what we

"My Song is of Dodge"

Says MARION TALLEY, Lovely Opera Star now starring in "Follow Your Heart," a Republic Production

I instinctively like beauty and style... and the handsome new Dodge with its lovely appointed interior and smart lines, appeals to me immeasurably. No wonder it is acclaimed for its lavish beauty... it's so much more expensive looking than it is. I was surprised at the really low price.

...pleased with the many expensive features for one's safety and comfort... this extra attention to riding enjoyment makes long trips easy and fun. On a recent trip from Kansas City to Los Angeles, I enjoyed every minute... and was not at all tired after a long day of driving.

And with all this luxury... at so low a price... I was quite surprised to note the remarkable savings on gas and oil. For a combination of beauty, style and money-saving features, it seems to me that it would be hard to surpass this handsome new Dodge.

giving way to what we called our "Band Park."

I am about to forget to tell you that St. Mark's Episcopal church occupied the northeast corner of this block for years.

Another corner in our city that is closely associated with my early life is the corner house on North Walnut and East avenue B. I attended my first Sunday school in this building (which has undergone many changes), and one of the most important years of my school life was spent there. But Time has moved on and the building is now and has been for several years used as a residence.

Another reminiscence that is especially interesting to me, relates to the many, many changes that had to be brought about before we had the handsome present postoffice we now enjoy. I can remember when it was proper to place the postoffice in the extreme rear of the longest brick building in town, and after we entered the building we had to walk the length of a block before coming to that one small window from which all business was transacted.

Old Time.

Now muse I of old times, old hopes, old friends—
Old friends! The writing of these words has borne
My fancy backward to the gracious past,
The generous past, when all was possible,
For all was then untried; the years between
Have taught some sweet, some bitter lessons, none
Wiser than this—to spend in all things else,
But of old friends to be most miserly.

Epoch year to ancient friendships.
Add a ring,
As to an oak, and precious more
And more,
Without deservingness or help of others,
They grow and, silent, wider
Spread, each year,
Their unthought ring of shelter or of shade—Selected.

was sure to blow up from too much steam—"of the passenger train through our newly-incorporated town. The sight of Germany's most expensive dirigible fell far short of producing the thrill of that long-distance view of that train. We have indeed come far from that one train a day on the old Cairo & Fulton or St. Louis, Iron Mountain & Southern, to the splendid Missouri Pacific, Louisiana & Arkansas and the Frisco, putting through our city 18 luxuriously-equipped, air-conditioned passenger trains per day, not to mention the adequate freight service connected with each of the roads. Automobiles, airplanes may come and go, but nothing will ever quite erase from my memory that old frame station and my first experience of clutching a long railroad ticket in my tightly-folded hand, that would take me out into the "unseen and untried."

Many rings have gone round the tree since the "Tank Days" of our city. We progress to the cisterns on one of our downtown streets, and on to what is now known as the best municipal Water & Light Plant in the state. Too much praise and credit cannot be given to our city fathers of that day for their untiring efforts and management to bring about this splendid asset to our town. But again Old Time has been relentless with his scythe.

A corner in our city that I have lived to see undergo many changes is the block where now stands our handsome city hall, a dream come true, with its spacious auditorium, council rooms, public library and city offices.

I remember Hope's first hotel, the scene of her first tragedy. I refer to the murder of Colonel Bob Winn by another "Colonel" they were all colonels in those days, and a small disagreement often terminated in tragedy.

Progress removed the hotel and this site was occupied for many years by a cotton compress, and after its removal progress ceased for a time and Hope's famous discussed and "cussed" woodyard came into existence, finally

Old Livery Stables

Speaking of "horse and buggy" reminds me of the prominent corners of our city that were occupied by what we called "livery stables"—Where the Hope Furniture company now stands was the site of a livery stable for several years, and the secure new one occupied by the beautiful Saenger theater housed horses and buggies, until progress rounded out our beautiful and up-to-date town. For the "Opory House" on Front street had to go, and we now hail the most beautiful theater between Little Rock and Dallas.

How many of us remember Hope's one and only closed carriage? Only those experiencing extreme joy or grief were privileged to ride in this carriage.

And how many of us remember the first girl that dared face the proprieties with what we now call bobbed hair? If a spell of typhoid fever did not remove the long hair that went to make up the beauty of women, cutting it just wasn't done. Time moves on—now one of our most paying businesses now only in Hope but any other up-to-date town is the "Beauty Parlor," and women at last have the pleasure of "going to the barber shop," a luxury long experienced by men only.

I could say so much about the progress that has been made in our churches and schools; the passing of the little red school house where we were taught the three "R's," the beautiful churches that have expanded from the little store on Front street to the beautiful buildings that have been erected within our midst by the different denominations.

Before passing my town on to the younger generation, in whom I have much faith, I would like to pay tribute to some of the splendid citizens I have known, who helped us to grow into what we now are, but have passed on—not to make way for progress, but into a well-earned reward.

I was too small to remember Pat Donnelly, but my mother told me I was quite a favorite with him on account of my name, "Kate."

But well do I remember Pappy Kile, A. A. Lee, both the Brazells, the Lowrys, A. P. Dyke (a man who was untiring in his efforts to put Hope on the map), Colonel Gus Knobel, Captain Bridwell, Sam Brundidge, Dr. G. H. Andrews, Dr. J. B. Sanderford (one of the best loved physicians of the old "saddle bag" type, whose advice and prescriptions are still remembered and used), George Hicks, Captain Geo. Taylor, J. B. Giles, C. T. old Military road through Washington to Columbus, where they were fed by Ed Johnson, who had a contract with the government. These people were fed beef and corn, as Mr. Johnson bought quantities of cattle and raised corn to supply these people. It is said he fed from 4,000 to 5,000 Indians while he had this contract on the way to Indian Territory.

Last Indians Here in 1832

In 1832 a few families of Indians were settled on Lost Prairie but they left in a short time—and this was about the last tribe living in Hempstead county.

Old traditions seem to agree that as soon as the government had gotten back the domain ceded to the Cherokee, President Jackson (who came into office in 1828) decided they should go west of what is now the western boundary of Arkansas, into Oklahoma.

The Arkansas tribes are reckoned to be the tallest and best shaped of all the savages on this continent, and by way of distinction were called "The fine men."

Early in 1832, the Military Road was cut through from Little Rock to Fort Towson in Indian Territory. Its lines crossed the Ouachita river a few miles above Arkadelphia in Clark county, and ran thence in a westerly direction to its terminus. Another always be remembered by those who knew him as being "different" but who stood strong for what was good for his town and her citizenry), Captain J. T. West, W. Y. Foster, S. R. Oglesby, C. A. B. and Morryman Wood, W. M. Cornelius, Dr. H. J. Garrett, and a host of others.

In closing this reminiscence, I have just one request—no crutches!

Now, as to how the Cherokees were removed into the country now known as "Oklahoma":

I have given this matter much study. Some Cherokees began moving on their own accord, soon after the treaty of 1828 was signed; but many of them, who had settled in Arkansas like those that had remained in east Tennessee, and the surrounding states, were reluctant to leave their old homes.

It was not until General Jackson became President in 1828 that the government began taking a hand in helping, or rather, forcing, the Indians to the Oklahoma country. Except for the Eastern Cherokees and the tribes confederated with them, most of the Indians east of the Mississippi, on reaching the west side of that stream found their way across the State of Military Road was cut through from Fort Jessup in Louisiana to Washington, Ark., where it formed a junction with Little Rock and the Fort Towson road.

Indians Sent to Oklahoma

In the Fall of 1832, the Cherokee Indians were landed at DeVall's Bluff on the White river, having been shipped to that point on water. Captain Moss of Washington was employed by the government, and assisted in moving them from Little Rock, and thence over the Military road to their destination in the Indian territory. I get from the history my father wrote of Hempstead county that there was very little he could trace where the Indians had villages. The most that was learned was from a Mr. Reeves. (He was part Delaware, and came here from Kentucky in 1813.) Reeves said the Cherokees and the Delawares had villages on Lost Prairie on Red river, southwest of the river in Miller county, about eight miles below Fulton. Ben Clark was one of the first permanent settlers, as far as can be found. He came here in 1810 or 1812. He found a man living with the Indians, as a prisoner, who resided about five miles south of Washington. His children had never seen other white people. As to the Indians, there was no one to give information personally but Mr. Reeves.

Arkansas over the Government Military road, which from Arkansas Post went up the Arkansas river to Fort Smith, on to Fort Gibson. All the Cherokees in the south half of the Cherokee nation in Arkansas followed this road. But there was another Military road, one called "The White River Military Road."

The Government improved the various short lines of roads that the pioneer Indians and early whites had made in reaching stretches of upper White river. In some places, new roads were constructed. This was especially so where the distance could be shortened. In passing through Shawnee town, some of the Whites were selling the Indians whisky, so the government had to build an entirely new road, and no more Indians came that way. The early history of Hempstead county shows that the Cherokees and a few other tribes passed through Washington and Columbus.

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE

Caused by Tired Kidneys

Many of those gnawing, nagging, painful backaches people blame on colds or strains are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way.

The kidneys are one of Nature's chief ways of taking acids and wastes out of the blood. A healthy person should pass about 3 pints a day and so get rid of more than 3 pounds of waste matter.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, waste stays in the body and may become poisonous. It may start nagging backaches, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Don't let it lay you up.

Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills—used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help to flush out the 15 miles of kidney tubes. Get Doan's Pills.

Conway's Letter to His Overseer

Wouldn't Wait for Mails—Sent Message by Slave on a Horse

James S. Conway, first governor of Arkansas, owned a large plantation just below where Garland City now stands. There was a small town at this place and a postoffice was known as Conway, Ark. The overseer on Mr. Conway's plantation was E. M. Rowe.

Among a collection of historical documents belonging to Paul M. Simms, of Hope, are several letters from Governor Conway to Mr. Rowe at Garland City. One of these letters was delivered by hand. Mr. Conway, then in Little Rock, had an important message to deliver to Mr. Rowe, and, being unwilling to wait for the mails to deliver it, he put one of his slave boys on a horse and gave him the letter addressed to:

"Mr. E. M. Rowe, by hand of my boy."

Some other letters of his sent from Little Rock came through the U. S. Mails and were marked "Government—Mail-Free."

All the larger buildings of New Orleans rest on wooden pile foundations. It is a city built on mud. The United States, with its 21,000,000 pupils, has the world's record number of children in public schools.

Men usually are much more restless in sleep than are women.

Vote for Judge R. L. Byers for County and Probate Judge of Hempstead County, Because:

Don't you know that he is the only Judge since Hon. A. A. Gibbs was Judge many years ago that in going out of office left the county out of debt and a low tax levy?

Don't you know that for several years since Byers was Judge that we had the highest assessed value of the property of the county and during that period the tax levy was raised to 3 mills?

Don't you know that Judge Byers did more improvement that benefited all the people of the county than any other county judge?

Why not vote for a man that will reduce your taxes, pay the county's debts and place your money where it will benefit all the people? Does this interest you? It does. The above is paid for by the friends and supporters of Judge Byers.

school and it was her constant care to implant the fear of God and the love of virtue in my childhood's heart."

Much of Mr. Banks time was necessarily devoted to assisting Mrs. Banks in the management of the school, but he never failed to respond to all calls for his service as a minister, and there was no church in the Presbytery prior to 1850, which had not received the benefit of his ministrations. For a time after Mrs. Banks' death, his residence was at Mt. Holly, but his last work in life was at Rocky Mount in Louisiana.

Descendants Live Here

It is interesting to note here that some of the descendants of the pupils of Mrs. Banks Female Academy are still living in Hope. Those whom we can name are:

Mrs. Harry Lemley, whose mother Mrs. Julia Chester McRae was a pupil in the school at the same time as Mrs. Ward's grandmother; Priscilla

Hempstead County Officials

Macon, attended it and they were good friends, as well as classmates; Harvey Barr, of Hope, is the grandson of Lotitia Virginia Foster Betts, who was a pupil of this first college, and she is also the great grandmother of William Cantley, of Hope. There are probably other descendants here of whom we have no record.

In 1865 Priscilla Macon married W. D. Leiper, captain and quartermaster of the Confederate States, who was stationed at Washington at the close of the war. Prior to this Captain Leiper had taught a Boys Academy at Old Tulip and in her collection of historical literature Mrs. Ward has a letter written to Captain Leiper in 1857 while he was at Tulip, by his mother in Pennsylvania. This letter is dated May 15, 1857, and in it Mrs. Leiper advises her son to marry, but above all things not to fall in love and marry one of "Those Southern Belles." Which is exactly what he did and it came about in this manner: The meeting between Priscilla Macon and Captain Leiper resulted in a very ardent love affair, but as Priscilla told it, they were never allowed to be alone together, but in order to reach an understanding Captain Leiper wrote her a note asking her to wait for him until the war was over and as she said it, "I told him I would and I did."

Not only was the family prominent in the county history, but Captain Leiper after the war served one term in the state legislature and later was head of the public schools at Malvern for a long time. He was a member of the Constitutional convention and introduced several bills at this time—1877.

Confederate Accounts
In this old scrap book there are records of property and money furnished by Captain Leiper during the Civil War which are as follows:

Cotton Gin Gave McCasckill Birth

Jim Collins Started It About 1870—Story of a Steamboat Boiler

The first cotton gin in Redland was established by Jim Collins soon after the War Between the States, in 1870. It was operated by horse-power, consisted of one stand, and had an output of two bales a day.

There was at one time a broom factory and a tanning vat at Westbrook, but these industries were of short duration and the industries of this township have consisted of the marketing of timber, sawmills and cotton gins. The first gin to be operated by steam was built at Eleyville about 1885.

The first sawmill was established about 1885, operated by John A. Eley, B. L. White built a mill in 1896 and there is an interesting story connected with its operation. At this date the big river steamers had lost much of their earlier glory and the day of water traffic was decidedly on the wane, iron horses being the popular means of transportation. When this mill was built the owner hauled an old steamboat boiler from Little Missouri river by ox cart, and this was used for power.

The following story is taken from the McCasckill's School History of Redland Township:
"Milling on this scale had its hardships and romance. Temporary mill shillages were built at Long Springs and Kilgore. Like all lumber camps, indicate the loyalty and spirit with which the Confederate soldiers fought. Private funds were used by those fortunate enough to have them and the following shows how some of those who gave funds were reimbursed at the close of the war:

Application to be allowed to retain four mule-wagon & team as private property

Headquarters
Ref'd to Maj Moore, Chf QM SDA
Washington, Ark, May 2nd, 1865

Maj.
I have the honor to represent that in a former application to retain a four-mule wagon & team I was required to turn it over to the 2nd Arks Cav if public property—it is now awaiting at Champagnolle for a load of Q M & Com stores to repair to the command. I ask to be allowed to retain this wagon & team as my private property—since it was purchased with many other things for the Brig. Cav. last July & August, with my own private funds, there being no public funds to be obtained. At that time I loaned the Government, or rather used of my private funds for the benefit of the Government, $10,000.00 not one cent of which has been refunded—I wish to retain this property until such time as my private funds can be refunded. The property shall be continued in the Government employ.

I am, Maj.
Very respectfully,
W. D. Leiper, Capt & AQM
To Maj. Ewing A. A. Gent.

these were known as rough centers, and no doubt they were. Even after the Scott mill was moved to McCasckill, the "Mill Rowdies" furnished a problem for the guardians of law and order. U. A. Gentry, present State Insurance Commissioner, had his first practice as a pleader at the bar of justice in Redland justice of peace courts, and his case was the defense of mill employees who were alleged to have been drunk.

"But there was a better side to the mill life. Some really tough characters followed the mills, but for the most part the rowdies were in the form of fun. Two men who impressed themselves upon the early life at McCasckill were Bob Howland, and Carl (Red) Montgomery. They enjoyed bad boy reputations and delighted in shocking the pious. And, though often arraigned by the law, neither did any real mischief and are remembered pleasantly as clowns of exceptional ability. Both made creditable citizens as they sobered with age.

"Numerous mill men worthy of remembrance were employed in these mills. Charles Netherhouse was a man who really knew a circle saw. He came to the Scott mill, when with a few left strokes he repaired a saw given up for lost by experts. For several years he ran the saw at Long Springs and McCasckill before going to the Hope Lumber Company at Hope.

"Jack Walters was king of mule skinner in those days. As a teamster he had no peer in Redland. He could take a four team and a log wagon into trackless roads and come out with a load of logs in record time. His mules obeyed him completely and at times seemed to anticipate his desires. His methods were rather rough, but he was given tough mules.

"His management of 'Tobe' was especially impressive. Tobe was an out-law mule weighing about 1200 pounds. Before Mr. Walters took charge of him it was dangerous to go near him. But in a few weeks he was a dependable wheel mule in a four-up team. He worked without bridle, and though he was always vicious, obeyed the voice of Walters completely."

To quote further:
"The tanning vat was operated by a Mr. Hutchinson about 1860. There were four vats, each of which were six feet long and four feet wide. This industry was in operation during the Civil War."

"The first business house to become a center for Redland people was near where Avery's Chapel Methodist church now stands. The postoffice at that point was known as Hickory Creek and a store was in operation there as early as 1830.

The settlements of this township are Eleyville, Westbrook, Dotson, Belton, Kilgore and McCasckill.

It is interesting to note here that the first business at McCasckill was that of J. P. Wardlaw and Leona Harris.

It is common history that Professor Long from Tennessee came to Redland and taught the first school in 1840, at the spring that bears his name. Black school house was the first building in the township to be built solely for educational purposes.

"While the following names do not include all the early settlers and prominent families of this township, it will cover quite a bit of history with which they were intimately connected. Those playing some of the most important roles during the early development are:

The Wickers, Eleys, James L. Collier, Mitchells, McDougald, J. M. Harper, J. P. Wardlaw (grandfather of Tom Barrows, Hayes, Whitesides, Stumes, Barrows, Hayes, Whitesides, Gorham, Bells, Pries, Blitts, McCasckill, Hamptons, Boxes, Whites, Everts, Bulks, Askew, Sevedge, Long, Rhinehart, Martins and Worthams.

Cape Town Happening

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP)—Cape Town University students let their hair down with a bang when they staged a "happening" in a hired City Council hall.

It was a riotous paint-and-jelly-throwing orgy, performed to the deafening noise of three different bands playing simultaneously.

Colored lights flickered on walls plastered with huge abstract paintings. Op art films played on other walls. Bikini-clad girls, their bodies shining with luminous paint, writhed under ultra-violet lights.

A visiting London student, her long blonde hair covered in bright blue paint, said excitedly: "This is the only bit of life I've seen in Cape Town. It's the greatest!"

Some of the spectators thought otherwise as they became targets, like everyone else, for jelly and paint which the students flung about with abandon.

Next day students turned up at the hall to clean up the mess. But Town Clerk Jan Luyt locked them out so city councilors could waste ankle-deep through the sand, sawdust, toilet paper, beer bottles, empty packets of jelly and tins of paint to see the damage.

Deputy Mayor Gerry Ferry snapped: "The council will deal with this."

Commented student organizer Diane Walker: "The council knew what was liable to happen. A poster, 'Enter at your own risk,' was at the door. We had arranged to clean it all up."

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Inspired by preaching, a witchcraft hunt reached its peak in 1692 at Salem, Mass. Before the craze was over, 19 persons were hanged, says The World Almanac. In Europe, the fear of witches reached extraordinary proportions. Between 1484 and 1782, 300,000 women are believed to have been executed for witchcraft. The last such execution in England was in 1716 and in Scotland it was in 1722.

THE DOCTOR'S MAILBAG

Surgical Repair Best Treatment of Hernia

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D. Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—I am a woman in my 60s. I have a hernia in my groin. I thought only men had this kind of hernia. My doctor wants to operate. Is this the best treatment? How long would I have to be in the hospital?

A—About 93 per cent of all hernias in the vicinity of the groin are inguinal or true groin hernias. These are very rare in women. The remaining 7 per cent are femoral hernias and of these 84 per cent occur in women. There is only one cure for either of these hernias and that is surgical repair. Neglect may result in obstruction of a loop of the intestines—a surgical emergency.

The length of time you would have to be in the hospital would depend on several factors but the present tendency is to get you on your feet within 24 hours after the operation and let you go home after three or four days.

Q—I was recently operated on for an inguinal rupture. The nurse asked me if I was allergic to antibiotics. I had never taken any so I said no. Since leaving the hospital I have had severe pains in my groin. Are these the result of the operation or the antibiotics?

A—Since an allergic reaction would not account for your pains they must be due to the operation.

Q—Last summer I began getting blackheads on my nose. My mother said it came from not washing enough. I have tried washing every day but it hasn't helped. What should I do?

A—Blackheads are not caused by dirt or infection, and the evidence that they are caused by eating certain foods is very shaky. The exact cause is unknown but, like the lesions of acne with which they are often associated, they usually make their appearance with puberty. They are probably due, in part at least, to changes in the internal secretions of the sex glands and an increase in the oiliness of the skin.

Even though dirt is not the cause you should combat the oiliness of your skin by washing your face four or five times a day with an unscented soap that contains hexachlorophene. Don't squeeze the blackheads out because this is likely to cause infection and, furthermore, the blackheads tend to come back in the same place. If you are a girl, masking with face powder or cosmetics may help you to be less conscious of the blackheads. If you are a boy, try getting a deep suntan.

Today's hand was played at lunch time in a Winnipeg office. The bidding and play at lunch time games is usually fast and furious and this was no exception. It took North and South some five seconds to get to seven no-trump and West had the three of spades on the table one-half second later. South went up with dummy's jack of spades. When it held, South was able to count 13 top card tricks and claimed his grand slam.

The hand was sent to us and we think that it is worthy of comment in the column.

To start with, South has a normal two no-trump opening and there is nothing wrong with North's raise to six no-trump, nor with six no-trump as a final contract: 22 plus 13 equals 35 and that is right in the small slam range. But South's seven no-trump bid is not recommended. He has a normal two no-trump opening and not one thing extra. Still, most players tend to overbid their own

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE OF SALE OF SCHOOL BONDS

Hope School District No. 1-A of Hempstead County, Arkansas hereby gives notice that it will sell on auction bids on the date specified below its proposed issue of $175,000 Construction School Bonds dated May 1, 1967, bearing interest at the rate of 4.45 percent per annum, payable semiannually on June 1 and December 1 of each year, commencing December 1, 1967 and to mature on December 1 of each year as follows:

YEAR	AMOUNT
1971	$ 6,000
1972	6,000
1973	6,000
1974	7,000
1975	7,000
1976	8,000
1977	9,000
1978	10,000
1979	11,000
1980	12,000
1981	13,000
1982	14,000
1983	15,000
1984	16,000
1985	17,000
1986	18,000

For the payment of the bonds, the District will pledge its full faith, credit and resources and all of its revenues from whatever source derived that may now or hereafter legally be pledged, except the millage annually voted for current operation and maintenance and the payment of indebtedness evidenced by other bond issues, but including surpluses from continuing tax levies heretofore voted and pledged to secure any other bond issue, including, but not limited to the seven (7) mills pledged to an issue of school bonds of the District dated September 1, 1950; the six (6) mills pledged to an issue of school bonds of the District dated December 1, 1947; and, beginning with the year 1971, the eight (8) mills pledged to an issue of school bonds of the District dated February 1, 1966, subject to a prior pledge of said surpluses in favor of an issue of Construction School Bonds of the District dated June 1, 1966, and further including that part of the State Apportionment going to the District's Operating Fund.

The purchaser may name the Trustee and Paying Agent. All expenses of the issue, including the printing and trusteering of the bonds and the fee of Smith, Williams, Friday & Bowen, Bond Counsel, Little Rock, Arkansas, upon whose approving opinion the bonds will be issued, will be paid by Stephens, Inc., Little Rock, Arkansas, the fiscal agent. Supplemental coupons and dual coupons will not be permitted, but the bonds may be converted to an issue bearing a lower rate or rates of interest, with any conversion to be in accordance with the Universal Bond Values Tables, upon such terms that the District receive no less and pay no more than it would receive and pay if the bonds were not converted.

The conversion shall be subject to the approval of the Board of Directors of the District and of the Commissioner of Education of the State of Arkansas. The bonds will be callable for payment prior to maturity in inverse numerical order at par and accrued interest as follows: from surplus proceeds of building fund taxes and from any funds available for the call of all or any part of the bonds of this issue in connection with the call or refunding of all or any part of the bonds of the prior issues of the District (hereafter identified) on any interest paying date; from funds from any source on any interest paying date on and after June 1, 1971.

In the event the District refunds or calls any bonds of the December 1, 1947 issue, the September 1, 1950 issue or the February 1, 1966 issue (called "prior issues") it shall call that proportionate amount of the bonds of this issue then outstanding that the total principal amount of the bonds of prior issues being called or refunded bears to the total principal amount of the bonds of prior issues outstanding immediately prior to such call or refunding provided, however, that if the refunding of any of the prior issues leaves the continuing annual tax pledged to said issue unchanged and pledged to the refunding issue, it shall not be necessary to call any bonds of this issue by reason of the refunding of said issue but, after references in this paragraph to prior issues shall be construed to include the refunding issue in lieu of the refunded issue.

No bid of less than par and accrued interest will be entertained, and the award, if made, will be to the bidder whose bid results in the lowest net interest cost to the District (determined by computing the aggregate interest cost at the rate bid and deducting therefrom any premium bid). The assessed valuation of all taxable property within the school district for the year 1967, the last assessment of record, is $10,283,375.

The bonds will be sold upon auction bids at 1:00 o'clock p.m., on the 17 day of May, 1967, in the office of the Superintendent of Schools. Each bidder will be required to file a certified or cashier's check in the amount of $3,500 on a bank that is a member of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, payable to the District, to be kept as liquidated damages if the bidder is awarded the sale of the bonds and fails to complete the purchase. Checks of unsuccessful bidders will be promptly returned and the District will not pay interest on good faith checks. The District reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

For further information address the undersigned, or Stephens, Inc., Little Rock, Arkansas.

Stock Racing's Golden Boy Will Retire

By BLOYS BRITT
CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Stock car racing's Golden Boy, Fred Lorenzen, says he can now unwind his tangled nerves and forget about the dangers and fears of the track. "Sure I was scared many times, especially on the high-speed tracks," said the 33-year-old all-time money winner after announcing Monday night he is retiring from the sport that brought him wealth. "I don't know a driver who doesn't feel fear at the pit of his stomach before and during a race," he said. "After all, there are others out there on the track, and they're all trying to win."

The sport gave Lorenzen a case of the nerves in the last couple of years. He developed an ulcer, for which he is now being treated and which played a large part in his retirement. "I want to quit while I'm ahead," he said at a banquet given him by Ford division officials. "The only place I can go now is down."

Present for Lorenzen's formal retirement from the sport were a number of company executives, including Jacques Passino, who has charge of performance activities.

Passino credited Lorenzen, an ex-carpenter's helper from Elmhurst, Ill., with doing more for the company's performance image than anyone since the late Barney Oldfield.

Lorenzen says he has saved and invested most of the nearly half a million dollars he garnered in prize money during a six-year reign over the South's big super-speedways.

He said he has no immediate plans for the future other than "to get rid of the ulcer and unwind my nerves a little bit."

Lorenzen's off-white and blue racing colors will be retired permanently, as will his No. 28 that found its way into victory circle 21 times in races of 250 miles or longer — 12 of them on the South's big high-speed tracks.

Just Survives the Practice Sessions

TORONTO (AP) — Coach Punch Imlach of Toronto has not decided which goalie to start against Montreal when their Stanley Cup playoff resumes tonight, but if the Maple Leafs had any more time to practice, Imlach might not have one left to pick. Veteran goalies Johnny Bower and Terry Sawchuk barely survived the practice sessions Sunday and Monday after the Leafs tied the best-of-7 series at 1-1 on Bower's 3-0 shutout in Montreal Saturday. On Sunday, teammate Eddie Shack accidentally slashed Sawchuk across an already bandaged left wrist in an effort to shake the puck from the goalie's grasp. On Sunday, it was Bower's turn. He stopped a 10-foot-high flip shot by Frank Mahovlich with his chin and left with blood gushing from his latest wound. He needed five stitches. Bower, who also was cut in Saturday's game, had suffered a split finger on his stick hand in the final practice before the Leafs opened their semifinal

Some Notes on Baseball Season

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The Chicago Cubs might finish 10th again, but they lead the league in one department — early postponements.

The Cub brass watched the hired hands shiver through 36-degree temperature in gusty Wrigley Field Sunday and took one look at a forecast calling for two inches of snow. In the seventh inning of Sunday's game they called off Monday's game.

It's a long time between base hits for Phil Linz, the former harmonica rascal of the New York Yankees who now is a utility infielder with the Philadelphia Phillies.

When Phil doubled against the New York Mets Sunday afternoon, it was his first hit since July 16, 1966.

"It's not as bad as it sounds," said Phil who has a bright outlook on life. "This was the first time I have been at bat since last Aug. 14."

Gene Mauch uses Phil as a spare infielder and more often as a pinch runner.

"I'm running 1,000," said Linz. "Last summer I never was thrown out."

One look at that handy left-field wall in Fenway Park is supposed to make a left-handed pitcher grab his arm and moan for mercy. Most managers tell their southpaws to take the day off when they hit Boston.

Al Downing, who throws lefty for the Yankees, challenged the fence and won Sunday when he worked six shutout innings and allowed only one hit in relief.

In the first game of the series on Friday night, Bill Rohr, the talented Boston rookie southpaw, beat the Yanks for the second time.

Maybe managers will unlock the cage and let the lefties out when they hear the news.

Mike Burke, the new president of the Yankees, put the blast on the old guard in an article in Dun's Review when he noted, "for a team to fall so far so fast... could only mean that there had been a measure of deficiency throughout the entire organization."

"Our job," he wrote, "is to get up-to-date, to get with it." Somebody up there — at the Stadium — must be listening. At the end of the first two weeks the Yanks are 5-4 in the win-loss standings. At the same check point last year they were 2-10.

Joe Cronin wasn't kidding when he said the American League could be a 10-club race.

As of Monday morning it was two games from top to bottom in the American, but 5 1/2 in the National which has a tradition of tight races.

Miss Whitworth Advances Some

CINCINNATI (AP) — Kathy Whitworth's $1,800 victory Sunday in the Raleigh Invitational boosted her from fourth to first place in money winnings on the Ladies Professional Golf Association's 1967 tournament tour.

Miss Whitworth has earned $4,100.50, according to the standings released here today. Sandra Haynie dropped to second with $3,610. Susie Maxwell is third with $3,607.

Soccer Star Is Badly Injured

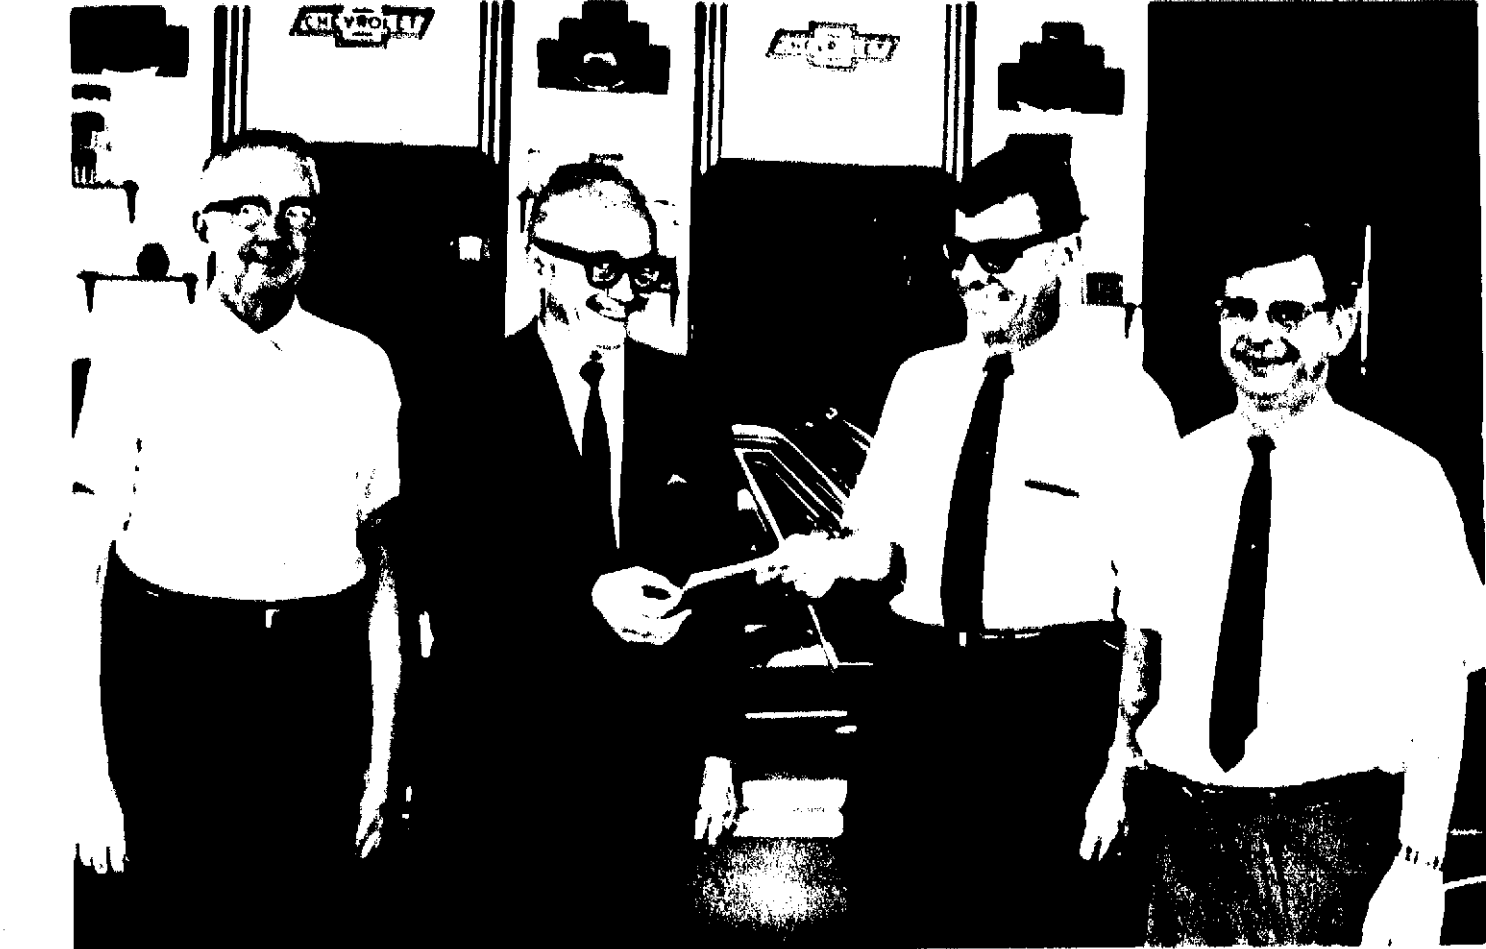

ALTRICHAM, England (AP) — Bobby Noble of Manchester United, one of England's top soccer stars, was listed in poor condition today after suffering head, leg and chest injuries in an automobile accident Sunday.

Victory over Chicago. Imlach had said he would fine any player firing high in practice $25. But he escaped that subject involving the shot by Mahovlich by saying "I didn't see it."

Imlach said he wouldn't choose his goalie until close to game time. Sawchuk was the hero of the semifinals, but was bombed 6-2 in the opener against Montreal and Bower replaced him Saturday.

Coach Tom Blake the Canadians said he will stick with senior 21-year-old rookie Roger Vachon, who brought his club through a four-game sweep over New York in the semis. Blake ran the Canadians through a spirited workout before they left Montreal for games in Toronto tonight and Thursday.

76ers Are Pro Cage Champions

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — "This is the greatest team in the history of professional basketball," declares Coach Alex Hannum of his Philadelphia 76ers, the champions of the National Basketball Association. "They established a win-loss record for regular season play, beat the Boston Celtics in the Eastern playoffs and defeated San Francisco's Warriors twice on their own court."

By a 125-122 margin, the 76ers beat the Warriors on Monday night to capture the final playoff, four games to two. Superiority at the free throw line and rugged play by Wilt Chamberlain did it.

The 7-foot 1-inch Most Valuable Player of the NBA capped his performance when he loomed in front of the Warriors' Rick Barry and forced an off-line shot when the San Franciscans trailed by one point with 15 seconds to play.

Stars of the 76ers were many, a team where the players picked each other up and where a 12-point deficit late in the third quarter of the final game was more than made up. Overall, Philadelphia hit 41 times from the free throw line while the Warriors notched only 22 free throws.

Wally Jones started them out with a 16-point first quarter and reserve Billy Cunningham hit for 11 of his 17 total in the final stanza when the 76ers surged back.

Still the big man was Chamberlain with 24 points, 23 rebounds and a non-statistical job of forcing and blocking Warrior shots. Winners of 68 while losing only 13 during the regular season, the Philadelphians were hard pressed in this playoff.

Going in with a 3-2 margin in games, the 76ers trailed 94-82 with 4 minutes, 39 seconds remaining in the third period. As Chamberlain put it, "I'd rather be a little behind because then we don't become complacent."

Coach Bill Sharman of San Francisco, admitting his club has great potential with its many young players, added, "You have to look to the 76ers for the next few years. They will be tough to beat."

Surveyor 3 Back to Work Thursday

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Controllers at Jet Propulsion Laboratory say they won't put Surveyor 3 back to work until Thursday, after the lunar moon ends. They said Monday the 620-pound tripod craft's television equipment might overheat if operated in the 200-degree temperature.

Surveyor 3, heated to 140 degrees during the lunar morning but dropped to 70 degrees Monday when it photographed a solar eclipse from the earth's shadow.

As the two-week lunar day continues and the temperature drops, Surveyor will be ordered to photograph itself again digging trenches in the lunar soil to give scientists information for planning a manned lunar landing. Since its bouncing landing last Wednesday Surveyor has taken more than 1,800 pictures.

The power need to pull the 5x2-inch scoop through the terrain has indicated to scientists a soil density about that of wet sand.

Marlboro Judge Shot to Death

BENNETTSVILLE, S.C. (AP) — Judge Francis Stephenson was shot and killed and Mrs. Morris Hood was wounded in a flurry of gunfire in Stephenson's chambers in Marlboro County Domestic Relations Court Monday.

The woman's husband, a textile worker, was taken into custody by Sheriff Jack Weatherly. The sheriff said the judge, 54, had just told Hood he had 30 days to start paying $30 a month alimony when the man observed, "I guess this means jail" and then there was a flurry of gunfire.

Charles Vaughan, an attorney for Mrs. Hood, was not wounded. Mrs. Hood, in her 30s, was reported in critical condition at a hospital.

5 Satellites Riding a Single Rocket

By JIM STROTTHMAN
AP Aerospace Writer
CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Five military satellites, including two space sentries to guard the United States against sneak violations of the nuclear test ban treaty, aim into orbit today aboard a single rocket.

A powerful Titan 3 booster blasts off to begin nearly 4 1/2 hours of acrobatic space maneuvers as it rockets toward a preliminary orbit ranging from 5,300 to 69,000 miles above the earth.

About 22 hours after separating from the rocket's last stage, one of the nuclear detection satellites, called Velas, was to trigger a spacecraft motor to kick it into a circular path 59,000 miles high.

The second Velas sentry was to perform the same maneuver in three days, stationing itself on the opposite side of earth.

The 730-pound Velas, shaped like lumpy beachballs, were built to spot nuclear blasts in earth's atmosphere and deep in space, perhaps as far from earth as Mars.

Dr. James Coon, of the Atomic Energy Commission's Los Alamos (N.M.) scientific laboratory, said the new Velas "have a much improved precision of looking at things so you can be sure you won't be fooled." Sensors aboard six Velas orbited previously might miss nuclear explosions under certain circumstances, he said.

Three other satellites aboard the $15-million Titan 3 had no spacecraft motor and were to remain in the highly elliptical orbit. All three contain engineering and scientific experiments.

One, nicknamed the "wind-shield wiper satellite," has a small arm inside the spacecraft to sweep across materials such as teflon, stainless steel, silver, gold and tungsten carbide so engineers can measure friction characteristics in space.

The second will study death-dealing and satellite-damaging radiation emitted from the sun, while the third "piggyback" payload investigates other types of radiation in space.

The nuclear detection satellites were to help police the partial nuclear test ban treaty signed in 1963 by the United States, Russia and more than 100 other nations. The pact prohibits nuclear tests in the atmosphere, under water or in space, but allows underground detonations.

If a nation hoped to violate the treaty without detection, the best bet presumably would be to pack a bomb in a rocket and explode it millions of miles in space, where natural radiation is already present.

Hearing Is Set in Fight for Custody

BATESVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Chancery Judge P. S. Cunningham of Walnut Ridge says a hearing would be held soon for Mrs. Ruth Estes, 27, who was arrested Monday for keeping her two children away from their guardians too long.

The custody fight is over Terri Lynn Masner, 8, and Toni Gayle Masner, 7, who are Mrs. Estes' children by a previous marriage.

The children's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Bernice Masner, were awarded custody of the children in 1959.

Mrs. Estes was arrested and jailed Monday on a warrant issued at the request of the grandfather. It charges Mrs. Estes with violating an Arkansas statute prohibiting a person from taking out of the state without court permission any child whose custody has been awarded to another person.

Violation carries a sentence of six months to five years in prison.

Mrs. Estes allegedly took the children to Puerto Rico last August and failed to return them after two weeks to their grandparents.

"We've hit the first plateau, with nine more to go," said Art Strech, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Committee of 100, as he accepts a check from E. P. Young, Jr.

Mr. Strech further stated that a number of other groups were working on this program and he expects to have several more to announce within the next few days. The goal is 100 members paying $100.00 each.

Emperor Enjoys Disneyland

LOS ANGELES (AP) — For Haile Selassie I, emperor of Ethiopia, a first visit to Disneyland brought outcries of delight. "Charming! Charming!" the bearded monarch said.

"I want to come back here and spend a week with all my great-grandchildren," Selassie spent two hours at the family entertainment center in suburban Anaheim shortly after his arrival Sunday from Bermuda by jetliner.

Mrs. Estes allegedly took the children to Puerto Rico last August and failed to return them after two weeks to their grandparents.

School Dist. Annexed in Hempstead

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Board of Education Monday approved plans for changes in 12 school districts and the status quo statements of the 83 other county districts.

The major change came in Pulaski County where the board approved the consolidation of the county's three districts — Little Rock, North Little Rock and the county district.

The plan is subject to approval of voters in a special election, which has not been set. It may not come before the annual school elections in September.

The plan would require a 55 to 60 mill tax rate and would provide a seven-member board of directors.

Education Commissioner A.W. Ford announced these changes, by county:

Arkansas — County district annexed to DeWitt, Stuttgart, St. Charles and Clarendon districts.

Calhoun — County district dissolved and annexed to Hampton district.

Carroll — County district annexed to Green Forest and Berryville districts.

Craighead — Bono, Cash and Egypt districts reorganized into the West Side School District.

Dallas — County district annexed to Fordyce and Sparkman districts.

Hempstead — County district annexed to other districts and Guernsey district consolidated with Hope.

Howard — Childress district annexed to Nashville and county district to Saratoga and Mineral Springs districts.

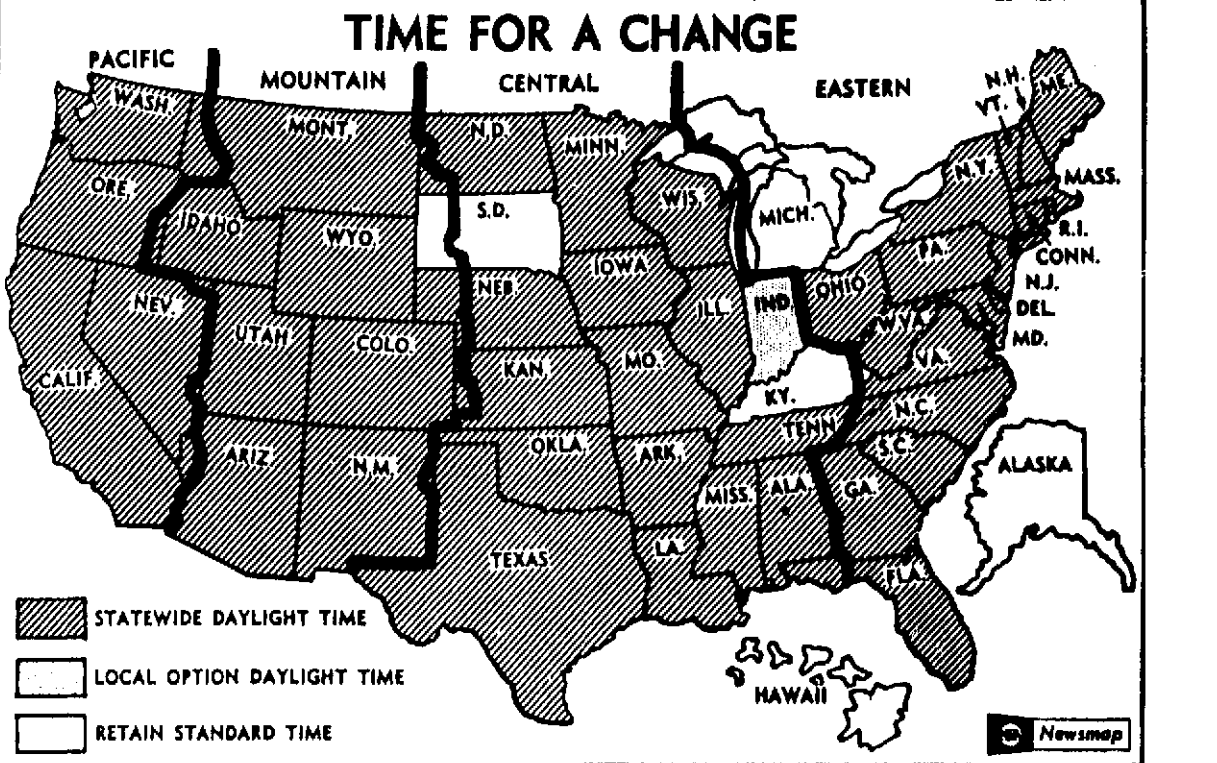

Miller — Plan calls for consolidating county district with Bright Star. Voters rejected proposal to combine Garland and Central districts.

Mississippi — County district annexed to Manila.

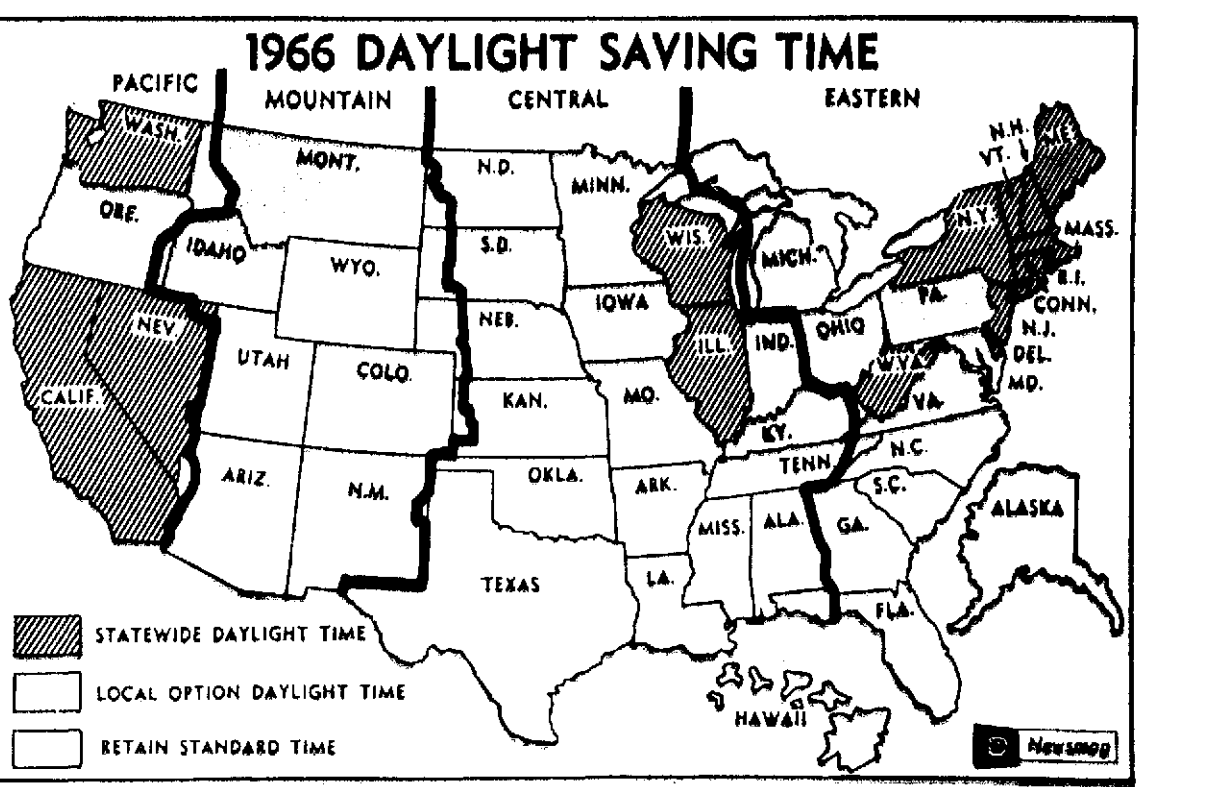

St. Francis — County district and part of Forrest City district consolidated with Palestine district.

Stone — Pleasant Grove area of county district annexed to Mountain View district.

For the first time, most of the nation is in step with Daylight Saving Time. Congress last year passed a law making "fast" time mandatory except where state legislators passed legislation retaining standard time—for the entire state, supposedly, no more local option. As a result, Daylight Saving is effective in 44 states on April 30 this year. Only Michigan and South Dakota legislatures have opted for standard time. Since its legislature doesn't meet this year, Kentucky has been given a year of grace to make its decision. Alaska and Hawaii, along with Puerto Rico, have been granted exemption pending revision of their time zones. Only Indiana, by a legal quirk, has contrived to retain local option. The legislature voted to permit each locality to follow either standard or daylight time but requires each to set up an "official" clock showing daylight time.

Before Congress moved to require nationwide Daylight Saving observance except where legislatures specifically exempted a state, the nation was a patchwork of different time zones for half the year. Confusion was greatest in "local option" states, where decision was left up to each locality. In an extreme case, the schedule of a bus going from West Virginia into eastern Ohio had to be adjusted to take into account seven different time changes within a scheduled hour.

Faubus Is Attacked by Johnson

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Jim Johnson, relatively quiet since his loss in last November's gubernatorial election, opened up with both barrels Monday in a blast at former Gov. Orval Faubus.

The attack came in the form of a confidential memorandum circulated among members of the Democratic State Committee who met here today to pick a party executive secretary. Details of the memorandum were published this morning in The Arkansas Gazette.

"I make the outright assertion that Orval Faubus, with calculated intent and for reasons best known to himself, has destroyed the Democratic Party in Arkansas as it formerly existed," Johnson said.

In it he accuses the former governor of "betrayal" and refers to "the Faubus stink" on the party. He also largely blames Faubus for his (Johnson's) defeat by Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller, the first Republican executive in Arkansas since Reconstruction.

Johnson urged the state committee to block the appointment of a party executive secretary with ties to Faubus.

A screening committee reportedly has recommended George O. Jernigan Jr., a former aide to Faubus, for the position.

Johnson also suggested that the committee reject "appeasement of those pseudo-liberals, plunks, and punks, and beatniks who ordinarily support the Democratic national ticket but last fall sought refuge with a candidate of another party because he was of a kindred spirit."

He said he had not in the past and would not in the future support President Johnson "unless and until he stops his politically motivated, hypocritical and unwarranted persecution of the South."

Back to the state level, Johnson said, "I learned the hard way last fall that this machine operates on the theory that if they can't rule, then they will ruin."

He also said he had a hand in the defeat of a bill that would have moved party primaries from July and August into the fall and said "Faubus kept the lines to the members of the legislature hot" to get support for the measure.

"I am unalterably opposed to changing rules in an attempt to woo the Negro vote," Johnson said. "I believe in equal treatment."

Distasteful Husbandly Chore Is Shopping for His Wife's Beauty Aids

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Jumping to conclusions:

If zoo gorillas were fed the same diet that most teenage kids choose, they'd never grow to maturity.

The husbandly chore that many men find most distasteful is picking up beauty aids for their wife at the drug store.

Your nerves are in pretty good shape if you can let a telephone go on ringing simply because you don't feel like talking over one at the moment. The average person is a compulsive telephone answerer. He is afraid not to pick up the receiver for fear he will miss an important message, although the chances of his doing so are slim.

Opportunity may knock on a man's door but once—but his telephone will ring 10,000 times. Circus elephants look sadder than they used to. Maybe they're tired of being paid in peanuts.

Lions Told About Beans Congress Demanding Settlement

CLYDE E. MONTS JR.

Clyde E. Monts Jr. told members of the Lions Club yesterday about Hope's newest agricultural industry. He gave facts about the expansion of his storage facilities for handling soybeans and milo.

At present there is storage space for 56,000 bushels of soybeans. Conveyors installed at the plant can move 4,000 bushels per hour to tanks after a truck dump with a capacity of 100,000 pounds physically tips a truck over and pours out its load, the entire process taking only 10 to 15 minutes.

Even after a late start last fall 34 carloads of beans valued at $135,000 were shipped from Hope. Mr. Monts said about 15,000 acres are planted in soybeans this year, the crop replacing the near extinct cotton production in Hempstead.

About 500 acres of land is being planted in milo, a very important grain to the poultry industry, he said.

Lion Charles Sharp was program chairman. Randall Lester, forester, was the guest of W. H. Gunter, Jr. The group met at Town & Country.

Blevins Boys, Girls State Delegates

The delegate to Boys State from Blevins High School will be Ricky Paul. The delegates to Girls State will be Sue Montgomery, Janice Floyd, and Virginia McLain.

Sue is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey D. Montgomery of Route 5, Prescott. Sue is presently serving as the vice-president of Beta Club, secretary of the Future Homemakers of America and a Student Council representative. She is a member of the Future Teachers of America and plays on the Blevins Sr. Girls basketball team.

In the 1967-68 school term, Sue will serve as president of the Beta Club, and reporter of the Student Council and F.T.A. Sue will also be the editor of the high school annual.

Virginia is the daughter Mr. and Mrs. R. K. McLain of Blevins. Virginia is president of the Blevins Student Council, treasurer of the Junior Class, and vice-president of the Future Homemakers of America. She is a member of the Beta Club and the Future Teachers of America. She also plays on the Blevins Sr. Girls Basketball team. Virginia will serve as secretary of the Student Council and as one of the two co-editors of the high school annual in her senior year.

Janice is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Floyd, Jr., of Route 5, Prescott. Janice is the president of the Future Homemakers of America, president of the Junior Class, Treasurer of the F.T.A., and a member of the Beta Club. She holds the title of "Miss Queen Bee" at Blevins High School and is a member of the Sr. Girls Basketball team. Janice will serve as vice-president and of the F.T.A. in the ensuing school year. She will also be one of the two co-editors of the high school annual in her senior year.

Ricky is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Paul of Route 5, Prescott. Ricky is the vice-president of the Junior Class and is a school fire marshal. He was selected as the Most Popular Junior Boy. Ricky is a member of the Blevins Sr. Boys basketball and baseball teams. He will serve as the vice-president of the Student Council in his Senior year.

All four students attend Sweet Home Church.

Resumption of Attacks on Military Targets End to Johnson's Ban AP News Digest

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent
WASHINGTON (AP) — Resumption of U.S. air attacks on military targets in the vicinity of Hanoi ended the ban President Johnson imposed last December on air strikes within about 10 miles of the center of the North Vietnamese capital.

The forbidden zone was never officially announced but authorities quietly confirmed its existence months ago.

The ban ended today when U.S. Air Force F105 Thunderchiefs struck a railroad repair yard 2 1/2 miles from the center of the city and an electric transformer site 7 miles from the center.

The attacks had been forestalled Monday when U.S. planes struck for the first time two airfields serving Soviet-designed MIG fighter planes.

One of the most important elements of the policy of escalation in targeting, informants here agree privately, is the stone-wall stand which the government of President Ho Chi Minh has taken against any kind of peace moves.

In the view of some officials the Hanoi tough line on peace proposals and the newest potential threat of direct mass invasion against South Vietnam have justified Johnson in stepping up bombing pressures on the North. This in turn presumably brought reconsideration of the no-strike circle around Hanoi.

The forbidden zone was set up after worldwide uproar resulted from a mid-December strike against targets at Hanoi — a railway yard and a truck park.

Policy makers conceded after the attack on MIG bases was announced that this shift in U.S. targeting raised the question whether the North Vietnamese might now seek to base some of the MIGs on fields in border regions of Communist China.

That in turn has raised the question which administration officials now call very speculative about whether the United States might feel itself compelled in time to attack MIG bases in China and whether this might force Red China into the war.

Up to the last few days the danger of involving Red China was advanced by officials here as the major reason why there was no need to attack the MIG fields even though intelligence reports made it clear that the number of North Vietnam's fighters was growing.

Officials, explaining the decision now to attack, say that in the last few weeks the MIGs have become much more active against U.S. attack planes.

As recently as April 3 Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said the decision not to

By EDWIN Q. WHITE
SAIGON, (AP) — American warplanes pounded relentlessly at prime targets in North Vietnam today, hitting again inside the port city of Haiphong and closer than ever before to the center of the Communist capital of Hanoi.

The new strikes against North Vietnam's two major cities came within 24 hours of the first attacks of the war on MIG airfields in North Vietnam.

The stepup in the air war accompanied by a jump in American plane losses. Four U.S. planes were reported lost over the North — three Monday and one today. American pilots reported shooting down two Communist MIGs Monday.

The U.S. losses announced today brought the total American planes reported lost over the North to 514.

Tass, the Soviet news agency, reported that five U.S. planes were shot down today, four over Haiphong and one over Hanoi. The report said one American pilot was captured in a suburb of Hanoi.

Only sporadic fighting was reported in the ground war in South Vietnam. Scattered enemy resistance was encountered in Operation Manhattan in War Zone C northwest of Saigon which involves about 20,000 U.S. troops. Spokesmen said 18 ene-

Negro Student Can't Abide Black Power

HAMPTON, Va. (AP) — Hampton Institute students greeted "black power" near the front of the auditorium, a Negro ROTC student jumped to his feet and shouted angrily, "If my government told me to, I would shoot you down. I would shoot you down twice."

College officials tentatively identified the protesting student as Roger Smith, but declined to say more. Amid noisy confusion, a faculty member took the uniformed student's arm and led him from the auditorium.

The faculty member, who asked not to be identified, said Smith told him he had had two brothers killed in Vietnam "and I just couldn't listen to anything unpatriotic like that."

Carmichael told the crowd at Hampton Institute — a predominantly Negro college — that they should refuse to be drafted. "They can put you in uniform and send you 8,000 miles to shoot a man who ain't ever called you 'nigger,'" Carmichael said.

Oklahoma Plans Own Parkway

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Proponents of an Arkansas toll road along the Oklahoma border received a sharp blow Monday when the Oklahoma House cleared a bill authorizing a 220-mile industrial parkway toll road along the Arkansas border.

The Oklahoma measure was sent to the Senate for final consideration.

A newly created Arkansas Turnpike Authority has given top priority to a toll road in the western portion of the state but the matter has become a controversial issue with groups in the southeast portion of the state challenging the priority.

The Oklahoma road would run from near Miami in the north to near the Red River in the southeast portion of the state.

It has been boosted as a linkage with a Kansas City-to-Galena, Kan., toll road but a preliminary report to the Kansas Turnpike Authority Monday states that the 118-mile route may be too costly to be feasible.

Failure of the Kansas toll road would be a sharp blow to chances of building the Oklahoma Industrial Parkway.
